SAINT FRANCIS NAMES MEDICAL/SURGICAL NURSING DIRECTOR

Diane Mulholland, R.N., M.S., To Fill Position

(HARTFORD, Conn.) – Diane Mulholland, R.N., M.S., of Southington, has been named Director of Medical Surgical Nursing at Saint Francis Hospital and Medical Center.

In her new position, Mulholland will be responsible for administrative oversight of Saint Francis' medical and surgical nursing units.

Mulholland graduated from the Waterbury Hospital School of Nursing. She received an associate's degree from Mattatuck Community College, a bachelor of science in nursing degree from Saint Joseph College and a master of science degree from the Hartford Graduate Center. She is certified in nursing administration and infection control and epidemiology.

Mulholland most recently was employed as Director of Infection Control and Prevention by the Hospital of Central Connecticut on its New Britain and Bradley Memorial campuses. She had been associated with the former New Britain General Hospital in a wide range of clinical and administrative positions since 1978 and previously was employed by Waterbury Hospital and the Hospital of Saint Raphael.

Mulholland is a member of the Association for Professionals in Infection Control, American Diabetes Association, Computers in Healthcare in Nursing and the Iota Upsilon Chapter of the nursing honor society Sigma Theta Tau.

Founded in 1897, Saint Francis is a major teaching hospital licensed for 617 acute inpatient beds and 65 bassinets. It is the largest Catholic hospital in New England.
