DR. DANIEL KOCINSKY NAMED ST. VINCENT'S PHYSICIAN OF THE YEAR

Bridgeport, CT, November 30, 2011—Primary care physician Daniel T. Kocinsky, MD, received the St. Vincent de Paul Mission Award as St. Vincent's 2011 Physician of the Year in ceremonies held recently at Tashua Knolls in Trumbull before a gathering of physicians, administrators and guests. The award honors the attending physician who best demonstrates the qualities exemplified by St. Vincent de Paul, one who truly lives the mission and values of the Medical Center.

"Dan Kocinsky is an outstanding doctor with superior clinical skills, who also is loved by his patients for his caring manner, said President/CEO Susan L. Davis, RN, EdD. " Dr. Davis quoted from his nominations, which were submitted by employees, nursing staff and patients. One letter called Dr. Kocinsky, an internist, a "doctor both modern and old-fashioned," in that he is extremely knowledgeable on the latest clinical advances yet never loses his compassion for his patients. One longtime patient called every appointment with Dr. Kocinsky a "comfort visit."

In its nomination, the nursing staff described Dr. Kocinsky as a physician who is easily approached with questions and who always takes the time to explain what he is doing. One doctor commented that when you receive a referral from Dr. Kocinsky, "You have all the information you need on the patient because he is so thorough." In his usual humble manner, Dr. Kocinsky thanked the nurses at St. Vincent's who "do the hardest job and do it well," fellow physicians, his wife, family and most importantly, his patients. "I am so honored to care for them."
