

The Intersection of Housing Instability and Substance Use Disorder

Tuesday, April 26, 2022
Webinar, 12:00 p.m.–1:00 p.m.

PROUD

PARENTS RECOVERING FROM OPIOID USE DISORDERS

This virtual educational activity is jointly provided by AXIS Medical Education and the Connecticut Hospital Association in collaboration with the Connecticut Department of Mental Health and Addiction Services.

Target Audience: Physicians, nurses, social workers, quality professionals, risk managers, healthcare executives, and all healthcare professionals working with patients impacted by trauma and addiction.

Description: This session—led by Catherine Hinojosa, DNP, from the Community Health Center in New London, Carol Jones from Alliance for Living, and Cathy Zall from the Homeless Hospitality Center—explains the intersection of housing instability and substance use disorder. The presenters will also highlight the unique challenges and evidence-based strategies to providing substance use treatment to patients with housing instability.

The webinar will also include important information on the role of harm reduction in the treatment process, and the benefits of taking a collaborative approach to care for this patient population.

Learning Objectives:

At the conclusion of this activity, participants can expect to:

- Discuss unique challenges and successful strategies for working with substance use treatment providers and patients experiencing housing instability.
- Explain the enhanced risks, as well as patient-centered strategies, for maintaining access to addiction treatment for patients experiencing housing instability.
- Describe harm reduction and its importance in working with people with substance use disorder.
- Discuss how collaboration is necessary to reach vulnerable populations and supporting health needs.

Recording: This activity will be recorded and archived for future participation.
